WIRED TO LEARN

The human brain is wired to learn. There are more neural connections in the human brain than there are links in the entire internet. And when it comes to learning, Academic Noncredit classes at the University of Utah give your brain exactly what it needs.

- A college level deep dive into your choice of dozens of fascinating subjects.
- Take the same semester-long classes college students take as they work for their degrees without the stress of grades or tests.
- All classes taught by experienced University of Utah professors.
- Save money. Academic Noncredit classes cost, on average, 70% less than if you were taking the course for credit.
- You don't have to be a matriculated University of Utah student to enroll—anyone 18 and over can sign up.
- Eligible University of Utah faculty and staff receive a 50% discount on tuition.

You are at the helm of the most powerful machine in the known universe. Time to put it to use and experience the Rewards of Learning!

Marching Band and other music classes, pg. 11

Some people will call me crazy, but the marching band is my favorite part of college football games. The music, the precision, the intensity—it just pumps me up and brings me back to my time on the field with my crew in high school. Who says you can't relive your glory days?

REWARD
#603

UNDERSTANDING MY TRUE NATURE

Most people say they run to get fit, but for me, I get fit to run. As I race over backcountry trails or through the busy city streets, I have a distinct awareness that I was not born to sit at a desk all day. The layers of responsibility start to fall away and I feel the raw human being underneath. My body may get tired, but my mind is always energized after a good run.
